MANAGER'S COMMENTS

Malaysia's exports grew by 19.6% while imports increased by 5.3% Year-on-Year (YoY) in January 2026 (January). The trade surplus increased to Malaysian Ringgit (MYR) 21.4 billion (bn) in January; up from MYR19.3bn in the previous month (December). Malaysia's Consumer Price Index (CPI) was flat at 1.60% YoY in January compared to 1.60% in December 2025 (December). Malaysian foreign reserves increased in February 2026 (February) to United States Dollar (USD) 127.9bn from USD125.6bn in January. Meanwhile, Malaysia's Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) was flat at 49.3 in February compared to 50.2 in the previous month. US Treasury yields were higher in February with the Treasury 2-year, 5-year and 10-year benchmark yield closing the month at 3.37%, 3.50% and 3.94% respectively compared to 3.52%, 3.79% and 4.24% in January. Malaysian Government Securities (MGS) 3-year, 5-year yield and 10-year yield were flat, ending at 3.03%, 3.31% and 3.48% in February compared to 2.99%, 3.27% and 3.50% in the previous month.

Global bond markets had a strong month in February as the "higher for longer" interest rate narrative evaporated after a wave of Risk Off sentiment emerged as fears of Artificial Intelligence (AI) disrupting entire industries swept through global markets. The sharp selloff in precious metals at the end of January also helped repolish the safe haven status of fixed income and channeled capital back into bonds. US Treasuries rallied strongly throughout February and the 10-year Treasury note punched through the 4% level to close the month at 3.94%. Major US economic data in February pointed to the economy continuing to be resilient whilst US inflation continues to remain stubbornly above the US Federal Reserve's (the Fed) 2% target. Nonetheless, market participants continue to be hopeful of further rate cuts in 2026 with most investors anticipating 2 or 3 cuts in the second half of the year. Malaysian bonds remained trapped in a narrow range throughout February but were quick to get on the bandwagon to perform a small rally in tandem with their global peers although bond prices were unable to breakout of the recent range. The local economy continues to remain on firm footing hence the odds of further rate cuts by Bank Negara this year remains low unless there is a significant protracted external shock. The 3 government auctions during the month were well supported amid the positive sentiment namely the 10-year MGS 07/2035, 20-year Government Investment Issue (GII) 05/2045 and 5-year 06/2031 minted Bid-to-Cover (BTC) ratios of 1.603x, 2.896x and 2.921x respectively. The present challenge for Malaysian Fixed Income continues to be generating a solid return amid the low yield environment. We have positioned the portfolio to mitigate the risks amid high uncertainty in 2026. We also continue to look for opportunities to buy quality assets at attractive prices while maintaining our conservative stance of medium portfolio duration and an emphasis on high credit quality.

INVESTMENT STRATEGY

The fund will invest primarily in a high-quality short-term instrument with a minimum short-term credit rating of P1 by RAM/MARC1 by MARC or long-term credit rating of AA3 by RAM/AA- by MARC.
