KEY RISKS

WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT?

Specific risks of the Fund

- Specific stock risk

Specific stock risk can be associated with the shift in consumer taste, advertising campaigns, lawsuits and competitive industry conditions. It can be mitigated by diversifying the Fund's investment over more companies in various segments of the economy, which operate independently from one another. Failing to achieve the expected earnings would result in the stock price declining, which in turn will affect the performance of the Fund. Specific stock risk is mitigated by exercising prudence in stock selection.

- Country risk

The investment of the Fund may be adversely affected by risks specific to the country in which it invests. Such risks include changes in the country's economic fundamentals, social and political instability as well as exchange control, changes in taxation, foreign investment policies and other restrictions and controls which may be imposed by the authority in the country that the Fund invests in. Country risk is mitigated by exercising prudence in the selection of investments, strict monitoring of those investments and ensuring sufficient diversification of the Fund's investments.

- Currency risk

It is also known as foreign exchange risk. It is a risk associated with investments that are denominated in foreign currencies. When the foreign currencies fluctuate with unfavourable movements against RM, the investments will face currency losses in addition to the capital gains/losses. This will lead to a lower NAV of the Fund. Currency risk is mitigated by exercising prudence in the selection of investments, strict monitoring of those investments and ensuring sufficient diversification of the Fund's investments.

- Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk may be defined as the difficulty of selling components of an investment portfolio at or near its fair value without taking a significant discount. This risk depends on the volume of the particular security traded on the market.

Please be advised that if a Unit Holder invests in units through an IUTA which adopts the nominee system of ownership, the Unit Holder would not be considered to be a Unit Holder under the deed and the Unit Holder may consequently not have all the rights ordinarily exercisable by a Unit Holder (for example, the right to call for a Unit Holder's meeting and to vote thereat and the right to have the Unit Holder's particulars appearing in the register of Unit Holders of the Fund).
